Recognition of Acquired Competencies

What is RAC?

RAC provides admissible candidates with the opportunity to receive academic credits for skills and knowledge gained through training, life or workplace experience.

Who is RAC for?

RAC is for adults who have significant experience in a specific field and wish to see their competencies recognized in relation to an official program of study.

Programs of study for which RAC services are currently available:

- Specialist in Transportation and Logistics AEC – LCA.CB
- Information Technology Support Specialist AEC – LEA.1Q
- Early Childhood Education AEC – JEE.OK
- Special Care Counselling AEC – JNC.1G
- Applied Business Development AEC – LCA.E7
- Transportation and Logistics Dispatch Specialist AEC – LCA.DZ

Advantages of the RAC process

If you are an adult with significant experience, the RAC process could allow you to:

- Avoid the repetition of training for competencies you already have.
- Be formally evaluated for the competencies included in a chosen program of study.
- Shorten the time it would take you to earn an official diploma, such as an AEC or a DEC.
- Obtain a formal record of your competencies for a given program of study (transcript).
- Have access to partial training targeted to your specific needs (seminars and class activities, online resources, tutoring by phone or in small groups).
- Have access to services offered at variable times (days, evenings, weekends).

How RAC works

If you believe you have the skills and knowledge comparable to those listed for one of Continuing Education’s AEC programs (please consult information booklets), please contact Continuing Education to find out if RAC services are a good option for you.

If RAC services are offered for your program of choice, you will complete a self-assessment and the College will review your file and analyze all your documents. If your knowledge is considered sufficient, your application for RAC will be accepted and you will be contacted by a RAC Advisor.

RAC requires you to provide proof of your skills and knowledge (certificates, job description, employer letter, video, etc.) for each program competency. You will also be provided with an opportunity to demonstrate your skills and competencies through varied evaluation activities, such as interviews, portfolios, evaluations, projects, workplace demonstrations, etc. Following these evaluation activities, validated competencies will be officially recognized and you will receive a plan outlining any partial training required in order to complete the entire program.

For more information, please call (450) 672-6046 or visit our website at www.champlainrac.com.

College Closures
If the College must cancel classes due to inclement weather, etc., an attempt will be made to contact each instructor. Emergency closures of the college (snow storms, hydro cut, etc.) are announced on the following radio stations: 940 AM, CJAD, VIRGIN RADIO 96, CHOM 97.7, CBC Radio 95.1, THE BEAT 92.5, CKOI 96.9, 98.5 FM, CKAC Sports, Info 690, and 940 AM. The following television stations are contacted as well: CBC Radio Canada – TV and CTV News Montreal (Canada AM). A special message is also recorded on the College phone system (450-672-7360).

Course Cancellations
The College reserves the right to cancel courses for administrative reasons such as insufficient enrolment. Students who have registered for a course which has been cancelled will be informed by telephone. They may select another course or have their fees refunded.

Credit Course Withdrawal
Students can officially withdraw from credit courses within the first 20% of the course. For example: Within the first 9 hours of a 45-hour course, 12 hours of a 60-hour course, etc. Students will be advised of the official course withdrawal date for each of their credit courses that they are registered for. If, after the official withdrawal date, students stop attending courses in which they are registered, they will receive a failing grade. Courses which have been dropped officially will not appear on the student's transcript. Should a student choose to withdraw from a credit course(s) or fail a course(s) and as a result of this their student status changes, all fees will be recalculated. Students will either be charged the difference or refunded.

Also, withdrawing from a course(s) or failing a course(s) within your Attestation program may make it difficult or impossible for you to continue with your program at that time, it may delay you in the completion of your program, or it may hinder your opportunity to complete the program as the College cannot guarantee that the program will be offered in the future.

Fee Payment
Fees must be paid at the time of registration. This can be done by certified cheque, INTERAC, VISA or MASTERCARD.

Students must receive 60% (passing mark) which is the minimum mark for the awarding of credits.

Parking

Non-Credit Course Refund
• 100% for courses cancelled by the College.
• 100% for withdrawals before the first scheduled class.
• 50% for withdrawals before the second class.

All requests for refunds must be made in writing and will be considered effective the date they are received by Continuing Education.
