

ABOUT THE PROGRAM

Interested in commerce, business administration, law or computer science at university? Champlain College's Commerce option provides students with the required mathematics, business, economics and computer literacy courses required for university admission in these fields. At the same time, you will have the opportunity to study history, psychology, and at least one other discipline in the social sciences, giving you an education that is not only well-rounded but pertinent. The Commerce option is designed to provide you with the strong social science background sought by universities.

UNIQUE FEATURES OF THE PROGRAM

- Communicate ideas clearly in written and oral formats
- Work effectively as a member of a group
- Use strategies that allow you to reach your short and long-term goals
- Develop comprehensive research skills
